Fukuoka City Greenery Association
Fukuoka, a synergy of lush greenery and soothing cityscapes
An urban oasis from the fusion of historical sites and nature

Matsuruni Park is an inner city park located in Higashi, Chuo-ku, Fukuoka City. With an area of 38.3 hectares, it is about 15-minute walking distance from Tenjin, the city center. The park area has been designated as Special Planning Park in 1968. Heiwadai Athletic Stadium, volleyball courts, and tennis courts were established as official venues for National Sports Festival.

Full-scale park construction began in 1967. Seasonal plants—such as plum, cherry trees, pomegranates, and loza—are cultivated, adorning the park with colors of the four seasons.

Based on the Matsuruni Park Master Plan of 1991, the Fukuoka City Government upgraded the park into a historical park with the Korean Ruins and the castle ruins as highlights, turning it into a symbol of Fukuoka City.

The Fukuoka Castle Ruins Museum, situated in the neighboring prefecture-run Ohori Park, further nurturing the fusion of history, culture, and sports, with a relaxed urban park setting.
